In the occasion of the No Fly Zone exhibition in May 2016 Ncontemporary produced a 64X96cm poster/catalogue containing texts by Roberta Pagani on the works or the artists exhibited: Domenico Antonio Mancini, Naomi Leshem, Julie Roch-Cuerrier, Raffaella Crispino, and Maria Rapicavoli.

Following the lines of the front page graphic, the poster turns into a catalogue/fanzine in which the essence of the No Fly Zone is captured.

Created as a non-conventional observatory, the No Fly Zone project presents artists and works within the walls of an un-usual garage space where different media and approaches will invite the viewer to re-think the complex international geopolitical panorama. No Fly Zone will feature serial works, visual archives, sequences or single chapters taken from a more articulated project showcasing the research process of each invited artists
